

After reading the issues regarding local broadcasting by satellite radio I am urging you to reject NAB's petition 04-160. It appears to me that allowing satellite radio to broadcast locally would only enhance the FCC's position on promoting diversity and choice over the airwaves. How does not allowing, or limiting, any competition that brings that diversity in line with the true objective of not allowing the airwaves to be controlled by too few. Allowing healthy and innovative competition is the only way to insure the basic doctrines under which the FCC was created are perpetuated. Thank you for allowing my opinion to be expressed.
